Long Term Athlete Development Model (LTAD)

This session will provide the overview of the 7-stage Canadian model of long-term athlete development, a training, competition, and recovery program based on a developmental age-maturation level of an individual-rather than chronological age. It is athlete centred, coach driven and administration, sport science and sponsor supported. Athletes who progress through LTAD experience training and competition in programs that consider their biological and training ages in creating periodized plans specific to their developmental needs

General Themes

Respect in Sport

Respect in Sport has developed a grass-roots online tool so now sport and community organizations can actually deliver on their commitment to create a safer environment for all participants. Sport Manitoba has mandated that all coaches will have to take this course by September of 2007. Learn more about the program and how you can take the course!

True Sport

True Sport is ... a national Movement of communities and groups across Canada working to ensure a positive, meaningful and enriching experience for all who participate in sport. The True Sport Movement is based on the belief that good sport can help build lasting strengths in individuals, as well as healthy, vibrant communities and a more socially connected Canada. At the heart of True Sport there are four core values: fairness, excellence, inclusion and fun

Sport Alliances

An Alliance can be defined as a relationship in which two or more organizations work together to deal with common issues or needs, to integrate and enhance the delivery of services/programs and to achieve common goals. This session will provide you with a practical approach on how to set up an alliance within your community. Various communities that have already developed an alliance will be on hand to provide their story!
